Juvé & Camps is indisputably the worldwide leader of Gran Reserva Cava. This family-owned, 100% estate-based producer is revered in Spain for its painstaking focus on quality and sustainability, and its important role within the country's conversation on fine wine in general.

A winegrowing family for over 200 years, Juvé first started producing sparkling wines under their name in 1921. They have been pioneers in the viticulture and production of Cava since then and, today, while Gran Reserva only accounts for 2% of all Cava production, it remains the focus of the estate. Juvé & Camps farms its 700 acres under a certified organic regime (likely the largest producer entirely certified as such in Spain), hand harvests all grapes, and goes well beyond the 30 months of minimum aging required by the Gran Reserva category.

RESERVA DE LA FAMILIA

CAVA GRAN RESERVA

Reserva de la Familia is the leading Gran Reserva Cava in the world, always vintage-dated, and all the more notable because of the quality needed to produce it without dosage ('Brut Nature' designation). The grapes are certified organic (CCPAE) and hand-harvested from Juvé's three estates; Espiells, Mediona, and La Cuscona, in the best areas of the Penedès region, close to Barcelona, Spain.

BRUT ROSÉ

CAVA NV

Originally developed for the United States and now as popular as Reserva de la Familia, Juvé & Camps' flagship rosé is made from 100% Pinot Noir. Following the "Méthode Traditionnelle," it is aged for 15 months in the bottle. Categorized as 'Brut' with only 5g/l of dosage, it is intense, fresh and exuberant with aromas of bright red fruits.

GRAN JUVÉ 2015

CAVA GRAN RESERVA

Since it was first made in 1972, Gran Juvé has always been an emblematic Cava, representing the best of Juvé & Camps. Categorized as 'Brut' with only 5g/l of dosage, it is only produced in exceptional vintages and is made using the best quality grapes from select vineyard parcels. With a very long ageing time in the bottle of about 42 months, it showcases the intensity and complexity that Cava can achieve.

Rio pays homage to the picturesque side canals in Venice, where the region's world-renowned Pinot Grigio finds itself at home.

Rio Pinot Grigio 2019

Venezie, Italy

ESTATE

Rio pays homage to the picturesque side canals in Venice, along which quaint bars bustle with life as city goers settle down for a glass of the world-renowned Pinot Grigio, accompanied by an antipasti, a salad, or light seafood. Let this outstanding Pinot Grigio, dry, crisp and refreshing, momentarily transport you to these canals in the "City of Water."

WINE

The fruit for this Pinot Grigio is sourced exclusively from the Tommasi Family's hilltop vineyards in Castelnovo del Garda. Located south-east of Lake Garda on glacial soils, these vineyards are perfectly suited to retain the fruits' natural acidity while allowing for slow flavor concentration.

VINEYARD

Soils: Glacial origin

Farming: All vineyards are farmed using sustainable farming methods, notably the absence of pesticides

WINEMAKING

Harvest: Mid August, in the night to preserve acidity and aromatics

Variety: 100% Pinot Grigio

Fermentation: In temperature controlled stainless steel tanks, lasting 8 days

Aging: 3 months in stainless steel tanks

Alcohol: 12%

TASTING NOTE

Rio is a delicate and soft wine with a bright straw yellow color with a green shimmer. On the nose ripe fruit, with typical hints of tropical fruit. In the mouth it is full and smooth, harmonious and pleasantly fruity, with an elegant aromatic persistence.

FOOD PAIRING

A fine aperitif, Rio is also a superb match for seafood salads, meat or fish based appetizers. It's bold flavors and bright acid also stand up to lighter preparations of pork and chicken.

LUCIEN LE MOINE

2018 VINTAGE SELECTIONS

VINTUS NEW YORK

LUCIEN LE MOINE

AN OVERVIEW

In two decades of work, Lucien Le Moine has become one of the most talked about Burgundy producers, making some of the most sought after wines from the region. The approach is extreme – two people, together doing everything by hand, working with a dazzling array of Burgundy's great terroirs. In the late 1980s, Mounir Saouma's visit to a Trappist monastery in the Middle East led to a prolonged stay during which he worked in the monastery vineyards and first learned to make wine. He subsequently studied Viticulture and Oenology in Montpellier, followed by six years working in Burgundy, other areas of France, and California. During this time he became fascinated by traditional methods of viticulture, vinification, and aging. In 1999 he decided to push to the extreme all he had seen and experienced, and with his wife Rotem created a small cellar dedicated to the philosophy of making wines of purity and typicity.

Rotem comes from a cheese-making family, and studied agriculture in Dijon, eventually orienting her studies toward wine. After winning a national prize from the French Academy of Agriculture for her study of the Côte d'Or, she participated in numerous harvests in Burgundy and California. The name for Mounir and Rotem's winery, Lucien Le Moine, is comprised of two references: the Lebanese "Mounir" means light, hence the equivalent French "Lucien"; "Le Moine" translates as "the monk", and refers to Mounir's initial wine experiences at the monastery.

From their years spent in Burgundy, Mounir and Rotem knew many superb growers in the region. They devoted themselves to select production of Crus from these growers. They only produce Grands and Premiers Crus, trying each year to have the most beautiful Crus in each village. They revise their selection of Crus every year, depending on the quality of a particular vineyard in a given vintage, but do not produce any more than 100 barrels (2,500 cases), the absolute maximum for Mounir, who feels that any greater production would rob him of the ability to give each his personal touch.

The couple produces one to three barrels from each Cru. This provides the biggest technical challenge, since each barrel needs to be perfect, from selection, through aging, to bottling: there is no blending to cover up even the slightest errors at the end. They work with growers who are scrupulous with their vines, taste the wines very early (right after press), vinify (in the case of whites) or guide vinification in the methods they prefer (emphasizing phenolic ripeness, acid retention, and some employment of whole clusters), and put the wines in their barrels. All wines are aged entirely on their lees. Gentle batonnage is done a few times a month, less or more depending on the vintage, and the wine is never racked during this process.

The cellar is naturally humid and very cool, which pushes malolactic fermentations late into summer. The natural CO₂ produced during these long fermentations allows Mounir to use little SO₂ (it should be noted it is best to decant all Lucien Le Moine wines as they can have some residual CO₂). Once malolactic fermentation is complete, he and Rotem follow each barrel, tasting several times a month. Bottling is done by hand via gravity feed when the wine is ready, always after a full moon (when atmospheric pressure is favorable). No fining, filtration, or addition of sulphur takes place at bottling.

COLLECTIBLE BORDEAUX

Christian Moueix and Château Margaux were among the small group of producers that VINTUS launched with in 2004, and our approach has remained the same since then: to establish deep relationships with great producers. In the time since we have started with Christian Moueix' Château La Fleur-Pétrus, it has skyrocketed to become one of Pomerol and Bordeaux' top collectibles, and is likely the most highly sought after wine from Bordeaux that is sold on an exclusive basis in the United States. Château Malescot Saint-Exupéry in Margaux is a relatively small left bank property, and the wines are snapped up every year by buyers who appreciate their quality position and consistent value. Our relationship importing Quinta do Noval has led us to interesting and little imported wines in their company's Bordeaux portfolio. And on and on.

Bordeaux can be a misunderstood region. We simply look at it as any other great wine producing region: we want to work with people who have a deep connection to their estates, and a beautiful vision of how they should work to make extraordinary wines that transmit their sites.
